COMMUNITY

Koch companies and employees provide time, talent, and contributions to add value in our communities. We focus on programs that enable people to improve their lives, find fulfillment and realize their full potential. Here are a few examples of Koch's community support in Oklahoma:

In 2014, Koch Pipeline donated 225 feet of pipe valued at more than $11,000 to Oklahoma State University Institute of Technology (OSUIT) to help create a realistic laboratory environment for students majoring in the Pipeline Integrity Technology program.

Koch donated $1 million to the city of Moore to help with the recovery effort from the tornado in 2013.

In 2014, Koch Fertilizer broke ground on a $1.3 billion expansion to its Enid facility. The project will employ up to 1,100 contractors during construction and add 50-60 permanent jobs to the Enid community.

SAFETY AND ENVIRONMENT

Koch companies are committed to operating businesses in a manner that protects the health and safety of employees and communities, as well as the environment by reducing waste and increasing efficiency. Here are some examples in Oklahoma:

John Zink in Tulsa and Georgia-Pacific in Muskogee both hold STAR certification in the Occupational Safety and Health Administration's Voluntary Protection Programs for their workplace safety performance.

In 2014, Koch Fertilizer was honored with the Grand Slam Award from the Association of American Railroads for exemplary shipping performance.

In 2014, Georgia-Pacific received the Certified Healthy Business Excellence Award from the Oklahoma State Department of Health for supporting employees' health by providing health programs and resources.
